Pages 782-785

In his speech to Brutus, Cassius _____s (verb) that _____
_____. (What is Cassius' claim?). Cassius appeals to Brutus' _____ (choose one appeal: emotions [pathos], logic [logos] or ethics [ethos])
when he _____s (verb) "_____." (embed/cite quote).
Basically, Cassius _____ (summarize the quote)
in order to _____. (What is his purpose?)
Cassius also appeals to Brutus' _____ (choose a second: emotions, logic or ethics)
when he _____s (verb) "_____." (embed/cite quote).
In other words, Cassius _____ (summarize the quote)
so that _____. (What is his purpose?)
This evidence suggests that _____
